Customer Proprietary Information Policy

Tiagris Networks Policy for the Protection of Customer Proprietary Information is based on compliance with the FCC CPNI rules.

Tiagris will implement stricter procedures to verify their identity if they want to discuss their account.

In the past, customers calling Tiagris's customer service could discuss their services and billings with a Tiagris representative, once that representative had verified the caller's identity. The verification was usually done through questions about account information known to Tiagris and the customer or through verification methods such as social security number. This authentication practice will continue with respect to calls made to Tiagris's customer service centers.

Tiagris will not discuss call-detail information with a Customer holder unless the caller provides the pre-established password to the Tiagris representative. Each Telephone or VOIP Customer will be provided an initial "password", which will allow Tiagris to discuss their Telephone or VOIP account details. Consumer customer can request personalized passwords or password changes, only having passed the initial password test.

Tiagris will notify Customers on certain account changes, such as whenever a password or other form of authentication (such as a "secret question and answer") is created or changed, Tiagris will notify the account holder. Additionally, after an account has been established, when a customer's address (whether postal or e-mail) changes or is added to an account, Tiagris will send a notification. These notifications may be sent to a postal or e-mail address, or by telephone, voicemail or text message.

Tiagris will provide notification to a Customer at their billing address of any changes to their password.

Tiagris does NOT provide its customer information to any third parties or affiliates and only to law enforcement agencies with a valid subpoena or duly authorized 911 Emergency or Public Safety entities. Tiagris does not use external 3rd party brokers, marketing or other manner of marketing.

Tiagris Employees shall have only limited access to customer information in the Tiagris databases, and only executive management shall have unrestricted access. Tiagris does not sell or otherwise make available CPNI data to any 3rd parties and complies with all State and Federal CPNI rules and regulations.

Questions or comments should be directed to Tiagris at legal-review@tiagris.net.
